

DEAR BON APPÉTIT, I'VE NEVER HAD ANYTHING LIKE THE CAULIFLOWER "SHRIMP" COCKTAIL AT THE BLACK SHEEP IN RICHMOND. MY WIFE CAN'T EAT SHELLFISH, SO IT'S PERFECT FOR HER.

POOR MAN'S "SHRIMP" COCKTAIL

8 SERVINGS Chef Kevin Roberts transforms humble cauliflower into a dead ringer for shrimp cocktail with a brief poach in cleverly seasoned water and a dunk in cocktail sauce. "It's something my mom used to make for us," he explains. "As kids, we went to the lake a lot, and she would throw this down as a snack. It's also a great party option for vegetarians and people with shellfish allergies."

- 1 cup dry crab boil seasoning (such as Zatarain's or Old Bay)
- ¼ cup kosher salt
- 2 yellow onions, quartered
- 6 garlic cloves
- 3 lemons, halved crosswise
- 2 1-lb. heads of cauliflower, cored, trimmed into 2" florets
- Cocktail sauce

INGREDIENT INFO: Crab boil seasoning is available at most supermarkets in the seafood or spice section, and at specialty foods stores.

Combine crab boil, salt, onions, garlic, and 6 quarts water in a large pot. Squeeze juice from lemons into pot and add lemon halves. Set pot over high heat and bring liquid to a boil. Cook for 10 minutes to let flavors meld. Using a slotted spoon, remove onions, garlic, and lemons from broth; discard. Return liquid to a rolling boil.

Add cauliflower; turn off heat, cover pot tightly, and let stand until cauliflower is crisp-tender, 5–10 minutes. Drain; spread out cauliflower on a rimmed baking sheet and let cool completely. DO AHEAD: Cauliflower can be made 1 day ahead. Cover and refrigerate.

Arrange room-temperature or chilled cauliflower on a platter with cocktail sauce for dipping.

DEAR BON APPÉTIT,

Spice cake can be heavy, so I was surprised at how light the sorghum version at Hot and Hot Fish Club in Birmingham, AL, was. I'd love the recipe.

SORGHUM SPICE CAKE

10–12 SERVINGS This easy cake swaps out molasses for lighter-flavored sorghum syrup, a Southern staple. For more on sorghum, see Prep School, page 106.

- 1 cup plus 2 Tbsp. (2¼ sticks) unsalted butter, room temperature, divided, plus more for pan
- 2 cups plus ¼ cup all-purpose flour, divided, plus more for pan
- 1¼ cups sugar, divided
- 1 tsp. baking soda
- 1 tsp. ground cinnamon
- ¾ tsp. kosher salt
- ½ tsp. ground allspice
- ½ tsp. ground ginger
- ¼ tsp. ground nutmeg
- ½ cup sorghum syrup
- 2 large eggs
- 1 cup buttermilk
- Rum raisin ice cream

SPECIAL EQUIPMENT: A 9"-diameter springform pan with 2¼"-high sides

Preheat oven to 325°. Butter and flour springform pan. Combine ¼ cup flour, ¼ cup sugar, and 2 Tbsp. butter in a small bowl. Using your fingertips, rub together until mixture is crumbly; set topping aside. Sift remaining 2 cups flour, baking soda, and next 5 ingredients into a large bowl. Using an electric mixer at low speed, beat 1 cup butter, 1 cup sugar, and sorghum in another large bowl, occasionally scraping down sides, until smooth, 2–3 minutes. Add eggs; beat until light and fluffy, 3–4 minutes. Beat in flour mixture in 3 additions, alternating with buttermilk in 2 additions, beginning and ending with dry ingredients. Pour batter into prepared pan.

Bake cake until top looks just set, about 40 minutes.

Immediately sprinkle topping over cake; bake until a tester comes out clean when inserted into center, 25–30 minutes longer. Transfer to a wire rack and let cake cool in pan. Remove pan sides.

Cut into wedges; serve with ice cream.
